Valuing evidence in EIDM differently- inclusion/equity

- Including Ankini's family in the design of the intervention -

- Enables inclusion

- Promotes equity

- Builds trust

- Including existing structures like CHWs, social workers –

- Increases trust,

- Facilitates government ownership & systematization,

- Ensures sustainability

Perspectives

A bigger trial to assert and validate the intervention

Perspectives

- More partnerships and cultural exchanges
- My Own Identity (MOI) – The MOI Project
- “I Just want to live a good life” The Good Life Solidarity Fund & business model
- A call to action for editors to insist on accessibility check for all articles (An opportunity for us to lead)
- A bigger trial to assert and validate the intervention

Conclusion

- It is in our hands to build the Africa we want that leaves no one behind the EIDM train including PWDs.
- Our approach brokers evidence to help PWD live a more decent life – with better access to basic services, a sense of belonging & entitlement, decent & fulfilling work.
